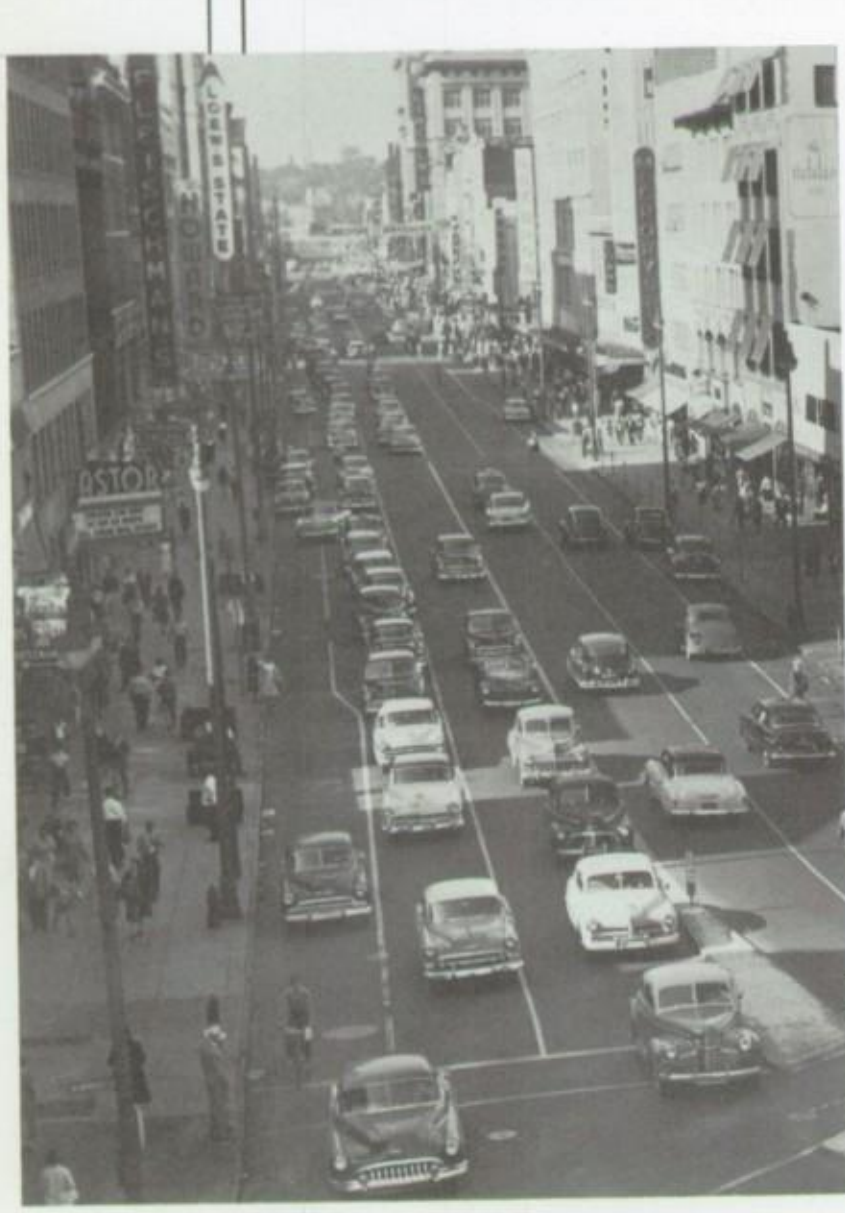
We, the first graduating class in the new William Nottingham High School, dedicate this yearbook to the people of the city of Syracuse, in grateful appreciation for the one school year we shall never forget.

DEDICATION



NOTTINGHAM CREST

FOREWORD

This first year has been spent in a school so different, so impressive in its usefulness and beauty, that we can hardly believe our good fortune. We do realize what a privilege it was for us to have been the first graduating class. In gratitude and affection we have chosen our "Tribute to Nottingham" as the theme for the 1954 Bulldog so that others may share with us in our pride.

NOTTINGHAM'S REBIRTH

This is my story and an important one, for I'm expensive, useful, and attractive. I happen to be a high school, a center of learning for the thirteen hundred students who attend my classes five days a week. Many people have been talking about me for the last ten years, even before the final plans for my construction were drawn. In all this time I've never had an opportunity to do any of my own talking, so I asked the editor of this book if I could not tell some of my visitors what I've been thinking. He agreed and here I go. First, I'd better introduce myself. I'm William Nottingham High School, of 3100 East Genesee Street, in Syracuse, New York. But for convenience sake, just call me "Bill."

Back in 1924 another school was built and given the very same name as mine. It was a three-story structure and soon became covered with ivy and filled with traditions. It saw hundreds of youngsters enter and pass through the halls, each going out into the world. After twenty years had passed, many of the Syracuse townsfolk began to talk about the school. They noted that although it was adequate for the time, it just would not suit the demands of future years. There were those who were not in favor of a new school. You know the type..."What is good enough for Grandma," etc. But they were outvoted so, in 1950, the Board of Education met and announced a wonderful thing. I, Bill Nottingham, Jr., was about to be born.

Early in November, all sorts of dignitaries gathered to watch Mr. Kane, principal of Nottingham, force a gold-plated shovel into the ground and thus turn over the first spadeful of earth. Then the parade started. Workmen of every description came to move the ground on which I stand. Others came to push it back. Then there were carpenters, plumbers, masons, contractors, and even a supervisor of the coffee tap. My budget was jumped, and a good thing too. Otherwise I would only have one floor. People came from everywhere to see me, but not nearly so many as when I was finished. On Fellows Avenue, yearbooks echoed their eulogies as to how it felt to be the last graduating class. The dimly painted walls were retouched and my future instructors packed their possessions to start life anew under my domain.

In the Spring of 1953 I got my first glimpse of what the students would look like, and a motley lot they were. A group of prospective seniors, who were to guide traffic through my halls toured the building. You should have seen their eyes when they saw my auditorium, my gymnasium, and my swimming pool. As a matter of fact, I'm still looking for the last item. The contractors hid the pool so well that I haven't been able to locate it yet. Summer soon came along and seed began to grow into grass on my front lawn. Driveways were constructed and doors were finally put on their hinges. Don't laugh! You can't realize how chilly it was during some of those nights, heat wave or no heat wave.

Finally, the preparations were completed so that on September 14, 1953, I opened my doors to greet the students of the New William Nottingham High School. Of course there were a few minor details which were left untouched. My auditorium had no seats. My art room had no sink. The print shop couldn't print because the equipment had not come. But these were small things to the students. Who would complain if a class turned into a study hall because there was no work to do? And who would mind taking three lunches which seemed to be the common practice for a hardy lot of boys who needed their nourishment. The most humorous crowd of people I've even seen filed to and from classes. Cries of "Where is 248?" and "I'm sorry I'm late, teacher, I got lost" were heard in every class. The traffic guides, who had spent hours learning my floor plan, discovered that the best way to direct the swarms was to tell the people to ask the guide located seven feet down the hall.

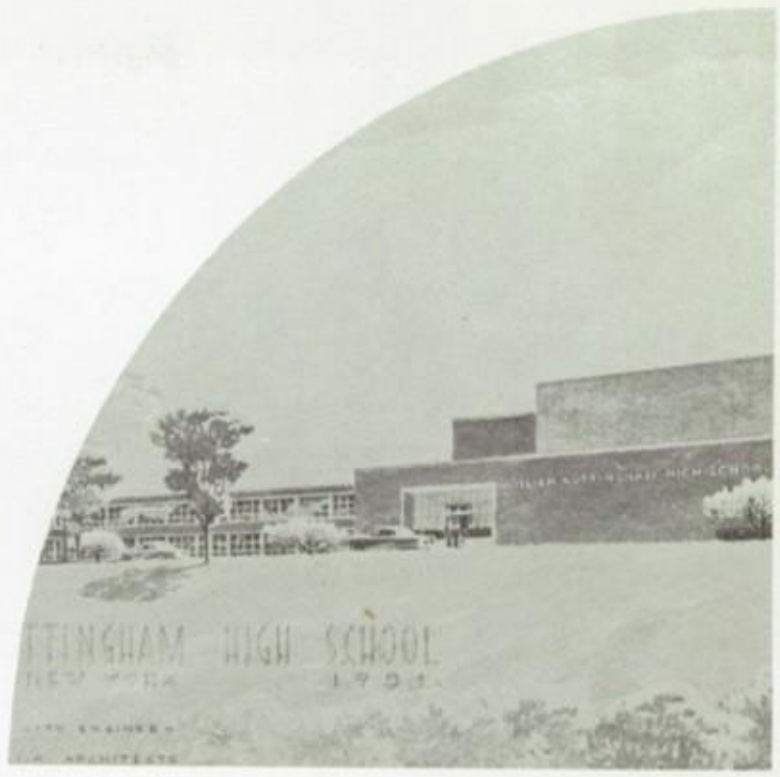
There were complaints, there always are. No matter how much I say no, there are one or two places where very tiny mistakes were made. There was no television set and no senior class lounge, although the office served very well. The halls were so long that it took four minutes to go from one end to the other with roller skates on. But I ask you this: Who's perfect? The biggest mistake of all has not been mentioned. My suave senior class completely lost their composure when they first heard that they would not "pass out" first in assembly. The situation was rectified, and now they can pass out at will.

Then my open house was held. It was formal introduction to two and a half thousand people of Syracuse who swarmed over me like women at a fruit market. They felt my walls, looked in my rooms, pried open cabinets, scanned the ceilings, and even went so far as to smell my paint. I was proud, though. Everyone exclaimed when they saw my auditorium and, when the dedication ceremonies were held the applause was tremendous. I thought to myself that the years of waiting were worthwhile, for although I was not perfect, I was a great improvement. A few days later I completely lost my head. With all the glass around, I decided to have a bit of fun. I concealed one of my windows and allowed an eighth grade girl to walk right through it. I had to stop that because Mr. Kane and Mr. Dixon explained that it wasn't nice for a grown school to behave like one of its students.



Thinking back over some of the events which have been held in my auditorium and around my school yard brings back many memories. There was the first Nottingham invitational cross-country meet. The boys ran around my boundary line until they were ready to collapse. The senior yearbook skit was a lot of fun, but so was the talent review and the Red Cross assembly. You know what I really enjoyed the most? It was the caroling done by the A Cappella Choir at Christmas time. Then I knew that the traditions which were carried over from the old school were mine to keep.

Yes, I really think I'm here to stay. But after this confession, refer to me as William Nottingham and to the other school as T. Aaron Levy Junior High, if you please!

The fall Student Council embarked on a successful year in our new school by attaining 92% of Nottingham Associated Activities sales. Its budget committee and the committee for elections are to be highly commended for their work. A dance was held in May by the Spring Student Council, the proceeds of which went towards the purchase of a scoreboard clock for our gymnasium. The council also was responsible for another worthwhile AFS drive this term.

DRAMATICS

The Dramatic Club presented a successful play for the student body last spring, entitled "Nothing But the Truth." Its members have received recognition for outstanding work by being elected to Troop 108 of the National Thespian Society. Frank Bristol has done an excellent job with stage settings and artistic work, and Virginia Shamus has shown her talent by performing in downtown plays.

Extra-extra! Read all about it! Something we are very proud of at Nottingham is our school newspaper, "The Citizen." Despite the handicap of limited funds, the staff has worked long hours to furnish the school with an average of four excellent editions per term.

An essential band of students working together for the betterment of school citizenship are the Corridor and Traffic Guides. Their obligation is that of keeping order within the halls of Nottingham during and between classes. Corridor guides are seated in numerous places throughout the school during the day. They receive and serve visitors entering the school. Traffic guides help control the flow of traffic between periods.

SENATE

Among the accomplishments this year was the financing of the Christmas edition of the "Citizen." The debaters raised the money for the issue by selling orange and blue shakers at last fall's football games. The Senate was also responsible for the presentation of two trophies, one to the outstanding member of the Cross-country team and one to the outstanding leader in the graduating class.

New equipment, enlarged quarters, and the same eagerness prevailed among the members of the Electronics Club. Four movie projectors, a huge ampro-arc projector for the auditorium, and a tape recorder head the list of new acquisitions. The members deserve much recognition for their outstanding job in supplying our school with audio-visual service.

GIRLS LEAGUE BOARD

The monthly supper meetings of the Junior-Senior Council of Girls' League provide an atmosphere of friendship and a place to exchange ideas. The informal discussions result in worthwhile projects for the school and community. It is within the council that the girls can further develop their fellowship and leadership qualities. New ideas are brought to and discussed by the Girls' League Board, the governing body of the organization.

RED CROSS

The main project of the Red Cross Club this year was the filling of a large gift chest for a school in Europe. Money raised by collections and bake sales was used to buy sports equipment, school supplies, and musical instruments for the chest. An excellent assembly was presented in connection with this chest during February. The club also filled small gift boxes and made holiday favors for the Veterans' Hospital in Syracuse.

The French and Spanish Clubs here at Nottingham provide an opportunity for the students of the romance languages to improve their knowledge by actual conversation and, at the same time, learn of the customs of France and Spain. Newly organized this year, the two clubs have had a very successful year.

SWING CHOIR

The Swing Choir is composed of twenty girls chosen for their outstanding voices, regardless of grade. During the spring term the girls, dressed in formals, were a highlight of the talent revue. In April they gave a radio concert.

Many organizations call for the services of a Nottingham choral group to perform at their functions. Because of this the Concert Choir was formed as an additional singing organization. They performed at the Christmas Concert, at Hotel Syracuse and at the invitation of many other groups during the year.

EIGHTH GRADE CHOIR

The enthusiasm and eagerness of the eighth grade for music and song brought about the formation of the eighth grade choir. Although classes were well under way, obstacles meant little to this brave crew and they are headed for sure success.

BAND

Crash . . . Bang . . . Zing . . . Boom . . . Tweet! They're off and running at Roosevelt Field . . . The Nottingham Marching Band, led by Mr. Walter Schermerhorn. The support given by them to our football team last fall was unmatched by any other band. Other public performances were the "Pop" Concert and the Annual Spring Concert. They also competed in the Contest Festival of the New York State Music Association.

The Orchestra displayed unusual talent last fall at our Annual Thanksgiving Assembly. Together with the Band they represented our Alma Mater at the Contest Festival of the New York State Music Association. They also performed at the "Pop" Concert, January 8th, and the Spring Concert, May 21st.

FOOTBALL

The Nottingham "eleven", led by Phil Stetson, all-conference tackle, and co-captains George Back and Paul Orcutt, racked up a 2-3-1 record in the city league. The Bulldogs also tucked away a 12-0 victory over Fulton High School. High scorers for the blue and orange were Paul Orcutt with five touchdowns; Hal Long and Joe Spaid, who crossed the goal line with two tallies apiece.

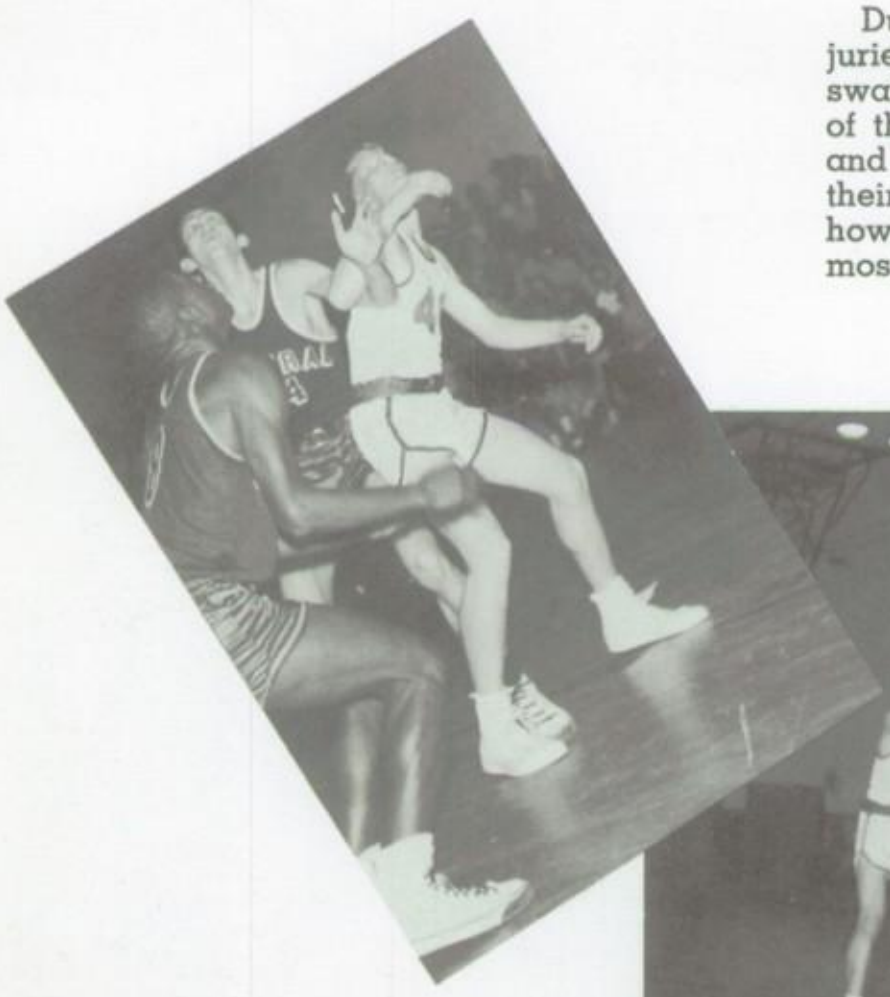
LONNIE MEAD



Due to lack of experience and extensive injuries, the Bulldog basketeers were forced to swallow many hard defeats. The expectations of the squad were great until "Cookie" Kruth and Jack Johnstone were forced to withhold their play because of leg injuries. Next season, however, a change of pace is expected since most of team will be returning.

BASEBALL

Seated: Butch Collins, John Kenny, Ed Fish, Howie Pabst, Ronny Holmes, Fran Burke, Joe Belle Isle.
Standing: Foster Disinger, Dave Hoople, Murray Miller, Bill MacLachlan, Bill Rice, Bob Ellis, Fran Stinziano, Otto Rogers, Joel Lupert, Coach Ted Petroff.

Adopting a new policy of juggling lineups, Coach Petroff attempted to combine his forces into a winning combination this season. He greeted the squad to find that there were only five lettermen back from last year. August Kastel, Ronny Holmes, Foster Disinger, Joe Belle Isle and David Hoople were the only hold-overs. Fortunately, and as Mr. Petroff says, "There's only one place we can go; and that's up."

Sitting: Paul Liberman, Jom Freyer, Walt Kraemer, Henry Goldner, Bill Tracy, Bob Wood, Rusty Nichols.

Standing: Pete Scott, Tom Andrews, Foster Disinger, Bill Rice, Tony Foote, Brian Smith, Ted Weisberg, John O'Neill, Dick Hyman, Wally Bottger, Len Koldin, Bob Grieve.

CROSS-COUNTRY

Nottingham's cross-country squad has progressed rapidly in its three years of existence. Hard work on the part of the two milers has paid rich dividends, both during the fall season and in the springtime. Led by Rusty Nichols and Tony Foote, the boys copped second place in the first Nottingham Invitational meet.

The sweeping of the city title away from the clutches of the Valley tracksters last year will enable the Bulldogs to seek their sixth consecutive championship. The number of candidates for each berth gave Coach Mulholland a reason to hope that there would be another track trophy in the showcase this year.

TRACK

Sitting: Mel Hodis, Pete Scott, Chuck Lavine, Bob Hastings, Hank Goldner, Pete Kenny, Bill Gamble, Rusty Nichols, Bill Chester, Tony Foote.

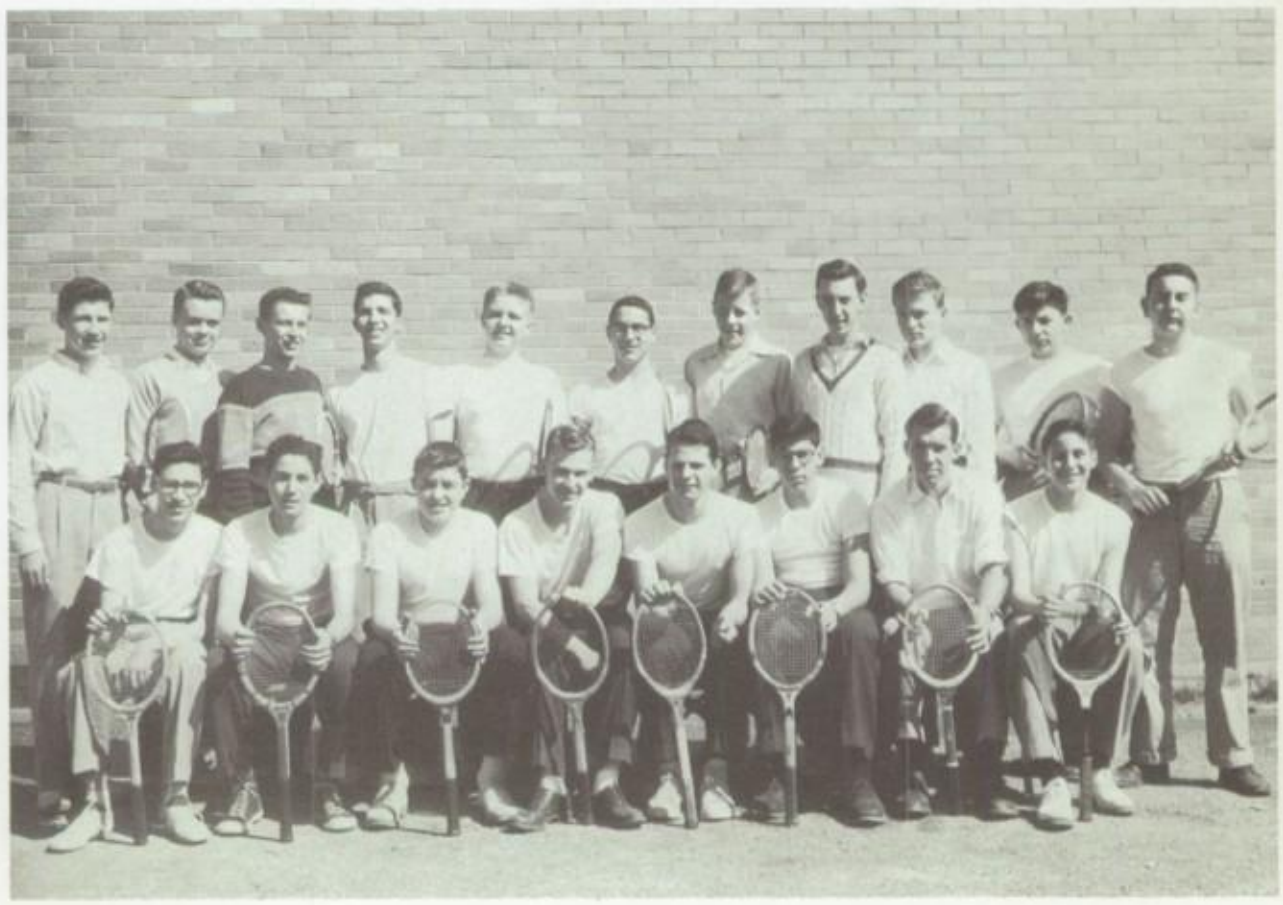
GOLF

Last year's golfers took first place in the city conference and placed second in the sectional championship trial. Although hampered by the loss of one of the stalwarts, Cary Gordon, the team seems destined to take this season's title and then go on for years to come. "No other organization can make this statement."

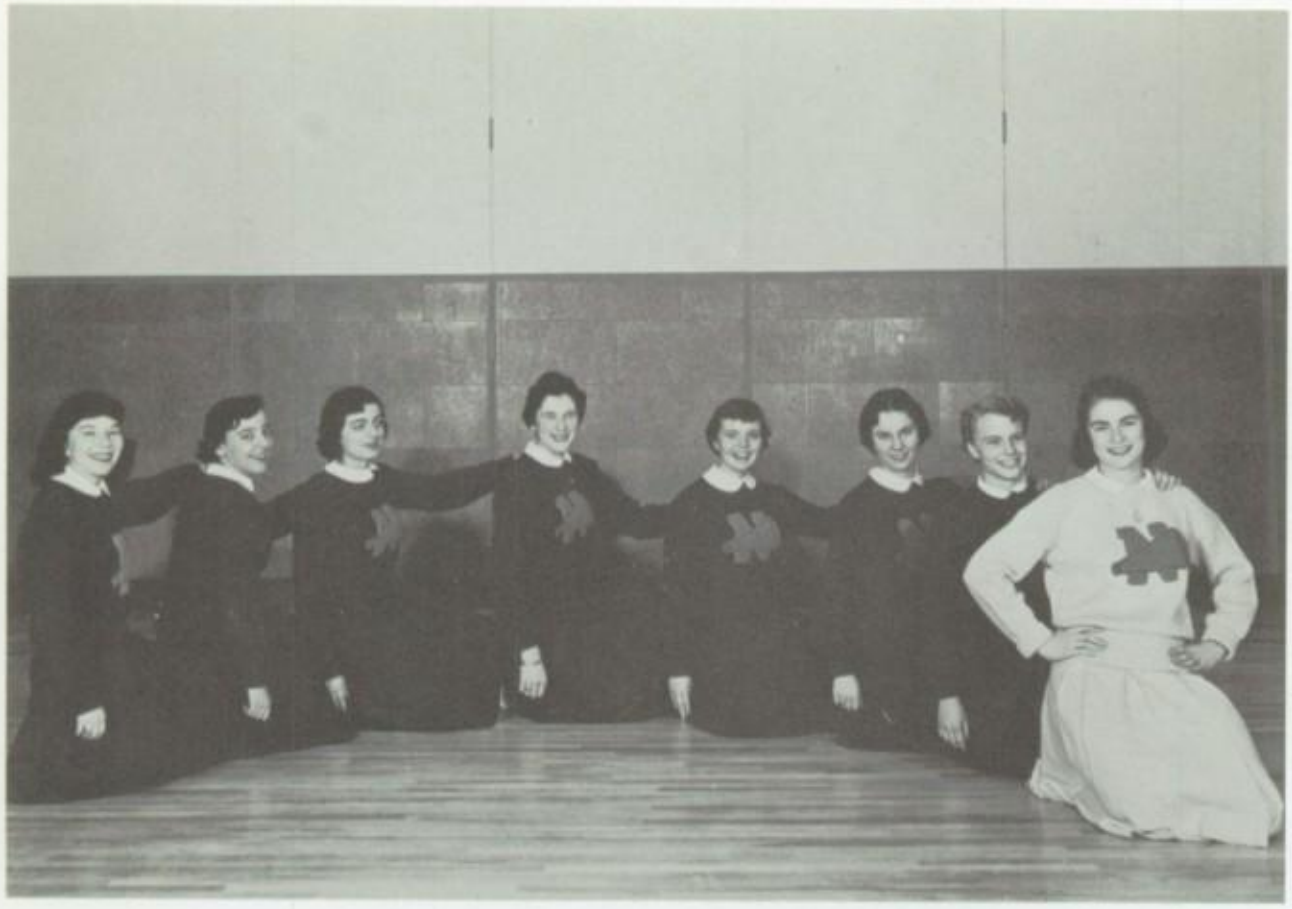
The tennis squad was faced with a unique problem this year. There were boys who wanted to play tennis, but there was no league in which to play. The city conference was discontinued. Letters were sent to the surrounding schools and matches were arranged. The boys travelled to Auburn to participate with the baseball and track teams against Auburn High.

TENNIS



Sitting: Dick Wilkins, Bob Sachs, Jom McGrath, Anton Vlcek, Dick Hyman, Julius Kamp, Alam Wilm, Gary Hershdorfer.

Standing: Joe Goldstein, Hern Starner, John Tracy, Dick Engel, John Romig, Ed Rose, Jon Halverson, Jon Brodsky, Clarence Nolph, Charles Schlossberg, Brian Reiser.



Betsy Lou Rose, Stacy Pappas, Bev Stinziano, Joan Stark, Sally Selner, Sheila Smith, Diana Harding, Toby Lou Lipson, Head Cheerleader.

CHEERLEADING

"And yell" constituted a familiar cry by this hardy group from both the football and the basketball court. The tireless cheerleaders, headed by Toby Lou Lipson, continued to display the same spark and energy that have helped many an N.H.S. team. Even in all the rain and mud, they, like the postmen, came through.

This winter witnesses the performance of a girls' intramural basketball league. Six teams participated. At the end of the season an all-star squad was chosen to represent Nottingham in a city conference tilt. The fair lasses topped Valley but bowed in a close contest to strong North Syracuse.

BOWLING

Another first, the girls' bowling team was formed this year. The teams, consisting of four members on each, bowled every week. In addition to the Thursday competition, some of the keglers were entered in the annual Syracuse Spring Bowling Congress.

"Spike that Ball!" That must have been another point scored by the girls' volleyball aggregation. The games were all closely contested, with the highlight found in the team's victory over North High. These girls practiced long and hard, but with much success.

AUTOGRAPHS

Dave -
To the greatest
"treasurer" I've ever had the pleasure to give money - we've had the greatest times the last four years Dave - in school and in Aurora - I want to wish you the very best that may be in store for you in the future - It's been swell - Ted Shindler

To Granddaddy - "Yaf", you're super and I want to thank you for "grooming"
me for the job someday you'll be a Senator and have your 20 minutes too.
Best O' Luck in everything Pokey

Dave:
Best of luck in your future plans. I'm glad I met you this term -
You're a swell guy.
Joan Leire

Dave
Lots of luck
to a swell gal
Luck in whatever you do
Lizzy

To the greatest card player I know. I really began to worry when you got up to the $49.00.
See Dave-It has been fun knowing you.
Best always-
Ed

P.S. I Hope your college life is truly successful.

Dave-
Have a great college life! Always remember the party "You" and
"This is you Dice". It was fun working with you. Luck always Bessie

Dave,
I sincerely regret your leaving Nottingham and Aronian. You've been a real asset to both and to me also. Impossible you'll do even better in the coming years. Best always & a terrific Buddy! Luck,
Jessie -

Gilbert S Butler

What with Aronian be with you gone from Nottingham? Hannah Feerick

~~[illegible]~~

Congratulations to a brilliant student. I hope more are coming from your family.

Sincerely, Tom Borzell

There really isn't language adequate to express my thoughts for you at the close of this course! "Miss Smith"

My 4th period History Class in the Spring of 1954 can never be forgotten!
